Art Unit: 1615

1. Applicant's election without traverse of claims 53-63 in the reply filed on 03 March 2004 is acknowledged. The election of species requirement is withdrawn.

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 53-55, 62 and 63 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Prasch et al US 6,596,318 B2. See claim 1. The reference shows a composition comprised of microparticle cores coated with a coating layer comprised of a biologically active material and a sugar polymer wherein the solid particles may comprise albumin or mannitol. Column 4, lines 36-39. The biologically active agents are the proteolytic enzymes fibrinogen and thrombin. Column 5, lines 51-67. The materials for formulating the coating layers comprise binders, such as cellulose derivatives, column 5, lines 50-67, and carbohydrates such as dextrose derivatives.

Column 7, lines 43-57. The scope of applicants' claims clearly read on the prior art of record that clearly shows equivalent sugar polymer coatings.

3. Claims 56-61 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
